Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Continuity of Literature: Presidential Addresses, 1922 My feelings this afternoon would be ill-expressed if I did not find a few words to describe my pride and my pleasure in the honour you have done me by appointing me your President. I live far apart from your admirable activities, and I have never had the advantage of sharing your labours. I should therefore be frankly at a loss to know how you discovered me, did I not think the answer simply to be that you felt by instinct my sympathy in your work. So far, and so far only, can I dare to justify your choice. Your energy is all expended in spreading and in regulating the love of English Literature; and that has been my aim also all my life. Sixty years ago, furtively devouring Charles Lamb and Shelley in class-time, I became unconsciously dedicated to the religion of which you are the priesthood. In those dim years I was without a guide - without a star, as the poet says - merely by...
