By Paul W. Schatzkin

Tanglewood Books. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 296 pages. Biography of Philo T. Farnsworth, inventor of electronic television (1906-1971). The Boy Who Invented Television is the astonishing biography of Philo T. Farnsworth, who at age 14 dreamed of trapping and transmitting light, and while plowing on his fathers farm looked at the parallel rows he had been making and conceived of a practical and effective way to wirelessly beam information from one point to another which concept resulted in his 1930 fundamental patent for modern television. Farnsworths struggle against challenges from the Radio Corporation from America, his fight to protect his vision from reticent investors, and his work that would forever change the world and modern communications, is presented in a highly readable narrative enhanced with black-and-white photographs. The Boy Who Invented Television is very highly recommended reading -- especially for television buffs who want to learn how it all really began! This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
